DESCRIPTION

The General Ledger Listing (GL Listing) is a useful tool to verify each GL Account ID's debit and credit transactions, which are either posted from the General Ledger or transferred from the subsidiary modules. You can generate the GL Listing in the General Ledger module.

This technical note identifies the different transaction type codes used in the GL Listing; however, it does not discuss the available report criteria, report fields, and the effect that various transactions have on the GL Account balances.

SOLUTION

A. Transaction Type Codes

You will find the transaction type codes under the Description column of the GL Listing. Below is an example of a specific transaction and the corresponding transaction type codes that you will see in the GL Listing.

Sample Transaction:

Received $1,000 customer payment for Invoice # 10038
Deposit Bank # - BOFA

Transaction type codes shown in GL Listing:
